5. COMMENTARY

Yesterday ES held up above 1377 major support level and filled its Oct.27 gap around 1393. Even if it sold off in the afternoon, it still managed to close above long term top band of uptrend channel. Current rally could be for election. However, based on the volume, it seems a majority of investors are interested in the buy side. Also Daily indicators start to agree each other. If today 1387/86 level can be held, rally could continue until Nov. 17. If ES fails to hold 1387/86 level, price could go down in the coming days.

6. TODAY'S TRADING

Based on 60min chart, ES broke out its long term top band of uptrend channel and held up above that line. If today election is good, price could pop higher for celebration. Then we are more likely to see 1398-1406 range. If election result is not good, price could dip for next 4 days. It is possible to see 1363-1359 range.

Caution:

We are in election period. Many charting patterns and indicators suggest the market is on its top, but political considerations may limit any decline. Be cautious in the pre-election period. Normal trading methods may not work.
