5. COMMENTARY

Election finally is over. "Sell the news" was the market response all day yesterday. So far ES still holds up its daily uptrend line. But if today ES lose its control on its first support line around 1381-1378 range, a sharp downside movement to test 1365.50 level should be expected.

6. TODAY'S TRADING

Yesterday ES made its double tops around 1393 level in the early morning, later it couldn't move back up to 1392.50 level after it filled its gap. That was first bearish signal. In the afternoon, it gave up struggle and headed down towards yesterday's low. Today we may see price bounces up to 1389-88 range for retesting long term band (black line) of uptrend channel. If ES gaps up at open, we are looking for short entry around 1387.50-88.50 range, and target for gap fill.
