4. DAILY OUTLOOK

ES consolidated some partial of Monday's decline. Today is FOMC announcement day. If ES can hold above 875 line, a further bounce up to 900 area should be expected. But as long as price doesn't go above 923 line for closing, short term trend remains downside.

ESU9 DAILY Chart

5. TRADING STRATEGY FOR June 24, 2009

ES went sideways for consolidation and formed a small doji (NR7) day. A break below 884 will be bearish, and it would be likely for price to dip further to 879.50 or lower to 874 area (scalping long entry). A move above 894.50 will be little bullish and Monday's breakdown point 899.25 and 907-908 (short entry) would likely be retested.
